

BILL IN NOW UP TO THE SENATE

Assembly Passed the Primary Law by a Narrow Margin.

VOTE STOOD 51 TO 48

There is No Doubt But That the Upper House Will Promptly Kill It.

STIRS UP BITTER FEELING

Madison, March 22.—The primary election bill passed the assembly at noon today by the close vote of 51 to 48, after two hours of debate, the time being limited to two hours and divided equally between the supporters and opponents of the bill.

One member, E. A. Miller, who voted against the bill on third reading was absent. The vote showed that the opposition had gained five votes, since Thursday morning when the bill went to its third reading.

Five Changed Front.
The five who changed front were Assemblymen Duerwaechter, Haggarty, Hartung, F. Johnson and Park, all republicans. Esan, Herman, Miller and Molderhaus, who were absent when the former vote was taken were on hand today, and all voted against the bill, its supporters not gaining a vote and losing five.

The motion to reconsider proved unavailing and the assembly is through with the measure.

It is now up to the senate which it is expected will kill it by a larger majority than by which it passed the bill providing for the appointment of a woman on the state board of normal school regents.

Three Important Measures.
Madison, Wis., March 22.—Three important measures brought on prolonged debate in the assembly yesterday. The first was the Owen bill, giving common councils the power to alter franchises heretofore or hereafter made, which was killed last night after a prolonged debate. Speaker Ray's bill assigning the new assembly districts was strongly opposed by members whose counties would suffer, and because the senate district apportionment would not go with it. It was however engrossed.

La Follette and Froelich Clash.
Then the primary election bill was reported back by Mr. Barrow, chairman of the engrossing committee, who took occasion to reply to charges made at Wednesday night's heated session, when he was charged with holding the bill back against the rules of the house.

Both sides showed a disposition to come together, hitherto lacking. At last night's session the bill was made a special order for today.

The feeling over the primary bill has become most pronounced, and a coldness has arisen between the governor and the secretary of state's office, owing to some of the members of the secretary's force taking a hand against the bill after an agreement has been reached between the governor and Secretary Froelich that the secretary's force was to be neutral. The governor called the secretary in for explanation.

Bob Leading the Fight.
The supporters of the bill are determined to dispose of the measure in the assembly this week and with that end in view will insist on a vote today.

SELLS MEALS BY ENDLESS CHAIN

B. W. Spitter Proposes to Feed Brooklyn, N. Y. People on an Entirely New System.

New York, March 22.—B. W. Spitter is the name of a man who has twenty-six agents out teaching Brooklyn people how to get a $2.00 meal ticket for 50 cents by the endless chain plan. He does his business under the name of the co-operative meal system.

He opened his offices last Monday and is already doing a thriving business. The endless chain applied to eating is entirely new. Spitter says his system is a great thing for the public, although he frankly admits he has figured out how he can make something like $2,000,000 in three months.

The methods of the Co-operative meal system are quite simple. To get your meal ticket you first take your 50 cent coupon and $1.50 in money to the Co-operative Meal System's office. The meal system in return sends you a little book of three Governor La Follette is personally leading the fight and every move that is made is laid before him by the friends of the measure before any action is taken.

The senate killed the bill to give fraternal sites for chapter houses on the university grounds, and advanced the bill prohibiting the employment of children under 14 in bowling alleys and beer halls.

ADMITS HE STOLE CUDAHY.

Prisoner in a Texas Jail Confesses the Kidnaping at Omaha.

Dallas, Tex., March 22.—Sheriff Johnson has made this statement: "H. C. Henderson this evening confessed to me and County Attorney Summers that he is one of the Cudahy kidnapers. His confession was voluntarily. He stated that he had squandered and used in fleeing from Omaha most of the money he got as his share in the kidnaping job before I arrested him in this city as a suspect early in February. County Attorney Summers asked Henderson why he had not admitted his identity earlier, and he said: 'Heretofore when I have been in trouble I have had a man between me and the courthouse. But now I see there is no chance for me to get out of a thirteen years' sentence on my conviction here in Dallas for theft, and I might as well own up to the Omaha job.'

STUDENTS INSPECT HORSES AND STOCK

Party of University Boys Visiting Mc Lay Bros. Stock Farm—Short Course Agricultural Class.

A Pullman tourist sleeping car stands on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul siding at Jackson street. It arrived last night from Beloit and has been the home of the Short Course agricultural class for the past week. The party numbers about fifty and includes students and professors. They have been travelling around the country for the last week inspecting the large sheep, dairy and stock farms of the state.

This trip gives the students a chance to put into practice what they have learned during the course. By thus applying the theories taught them they get a practical illustration of them.

A number of medals are to be awarded during the trip to the winners of the various stock judging contests. The rivalry among the students for these medals is very warm, each of them doing his utmost to excel in his particular line.

The students left early this morning for the Mc Lay Brothers farm in the town of Johnston where the day will be spent in inspecting and judging short horn cattle and Clyde horses. Tomorrow morning they will be at Alexander Galbraith's barns and will devote the morning to inspecting the horses and judging them.

They will leave tomorrow afternoon for Madison where the medals will be awarded and the term closed.

A sign with "Medals winners must set them up for the crowd" occupies a conspicuous place in the car.

MORMON ELDERS IN JANESVILLE HOPE TO SECURE CONVERTS HERE

Opened Up a Six Months' Campaign This Morning—Will Hold Street Meetings—Claim Polygamy is a Dead Letter in Mormonism.

D. R. Seely of Salt Lake City, Utah, and J. W. Freestone of Safford, Arizona, elders in the Mormon faith, arrived in the city Monday and expect to spend the next six months in earnest efforts to secure converts to Mormonism.

Their campaign is to be a vigorous one and no stone will be left unturned in their zeal to spread the religion of Brigham Young and his followers. House to house visits will be made and the elders expect to accomplish much by these personal meetings with the people. Tracts and Mormon literature will be distributed freely and wherever possible the elders will secure promises that the literature shall be read carefully, thoughtfully and without prejudice.

The elders do not intend to rely entirely on quiet work and personal experiences. Street meetings will be held and every effort will be made to break down the feeling against Mormonism, which the elders say is due entirely to ignorance and prejudice.

Both elders are privileged to be called elders by their religious calling alone for both are very young men. They claim that the Mormons are entirely misunderstood here in the east and that they are a law-abiding, law respecting people, who have been misrepresented for political purposes.

Polygamy, they say, is a dead letter with the Mormon church. It is not believed in, it is not practiced and has not been since 1890. The law against polygamy is regarded strictly and no Mormon has married more than one wife since its enactment. In the celebrated case of Mr. Roberts the charges were based on the fact that he had three wives, all of whom he had married prior to 1890.

The elders claim that the eastern people do not realize the truth about the Mormons. They think that this sect controls Utah, when as a matter of fact forty per cent. of the people in Salt Lake city are not Mormons and those who are do not unite in political matters. They are republicans and democrats the same as the people of any other belief, each one votes according to his own conscience.

Elders Seely and Freestone will make their headquarters at 103 North Bluff street during their stay in this city.

CORPSE OF GIRL IN FROZEN SAND

Missing Mae Comstock's Body Is Dug from Its Grave on the Lake Beach at Chicago

Chicago, March 22.—Incased in a tomb of frozen sand, which the waves of Lake Michigan had tossed over her, the body of Mae Comstock, the missing musical student, was found lying face downward on the lake beach at the foot of Fifty-Eighth street yesterday at 4:30 o'clock by Policeman Conway of the Hyde Park station.

A few hours more and the water would have completely buried the body of the young girl, who had sought relief from trivial troubles beneath its surface. But one shred of cloth about the size of a man's hand, remained to be covered when Policeman Conway made the discovery.

The case is a plain one of suicide and the motive is furnished by the fact that the young girl had bought Christmas presents for some friends against the wishes of her parents, and had borrowed money from a teacher of the American Conservatory of Music to enable her to do so.

Her parents, who live in Benton Harbor, Mich., had refused to extend her allowance of $35 a month so that she could pay for the desired purchases. Her board and tuition took all but $3 of this amount, with which she was expected to pay her incidental expenses.

Last week she received a check for her allowance and paid back the money that she had borrowed. Her father wrote for her to come home last Saturday, but she made an excuse to stay over for a week. Fearing to face the parents she had disowned in this trivial way, Miss Comstock drowned herself in the lake last Tuesday night rather than undergo the reproach of her parents on the morrow, when she was expected home.

It was necessary to thaw the body out in order to remove the clinging sand. Almost a wheelbarrow load was finally scraped away. When the features were cleaned the face was found to be badly bruised from contact with the rough sand and the swirling waves. No other marks of violence were found.

RAILROAD RATE WAR IS IN SIGHT

Chicago-St. Paul Lines Are Warned To Pull Off Fast Trains—An Important Move.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 22.—Official notice was served on the strong Minneapolis-Chicago lines by one of the weak lines today that the former must withdraw their fast trains from the Twin Cities and Chicago or all association ties would be cut and a rate war inaugurated. This move is one of the most important made in Northwestern territory for many months. Few officials know of it but the announcement will be followed by a stir in railway circles.

The notice in question was sent to the Western passenger association at Chicago this afternoon. That body will consider it but executive officers will decide the matter eventually inasmuch as the action promises to be far reaching.

The six lines to Chicago have a time agreement which forbids anyone handling passenger trains in less than thirteen hours.

But the Milwaukee, the Northwestern and the Burlington have been running ten hour trains without sleepers. The weak lines have long grumbled over the fact but until now they have not made any formal protest.

Wall Falls on Fireman.

Cincinnati, O., March 22.—During a fire which started in the lively stable of C. T. Hayman & Co., on West Seventh street, six firemen were hurt, two by falling ladders and the others by brick from a falling wall. The injured are: District Marshal Henry Bunker, hit in face with brick; Capt. William Thompson, fell with ladder; Lieut. Charles O'Brien, fell with the ladder, serious; Lieut. Vartenberg, fireman Charles Rainey, Samuel Daniels. The fire extended to French Bros' stable and injured several other small buildings. The loss is about $10,000.

ROCK COUNTY TEACHERS.

Arrangements for the Spring Meeting Will Be Made Tomorrow.

Several prominent Rock county educators will be in the city tomorrow, called here by the executive committee meeting of the Rock county teachers' association. The meeting is to be held in Supt. Mayne's office at two o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of making arrangements for the spring meeting of the association.

The meeting will be only a one day session this spring and will be held Saturday May 4, probably at Evansville or Clinton, the place to be decided on tomorrow.

The officers of the association are Principal R. E. Loveland of Clinton, president; Miss May E. Clarke of this city, vice president; Principal William Nicholas of Footville, treasurer; and Miss Lucy Whitmore of Edgerton, secretary. These officers and Supt. D. D. Mayne of this city, Supt. Converse of Beloit and County Superintendents William Ross and David Throne, constitute the executive committee.

It is expected that all of the members of the committee will be present at tomorrow's meeting. Principal Healy of Milton Junction, Principal Kling of Evansville and Principal Rosa of Edgerton will also attend the meeting.

SANDY DINGWALL SHOT IN SHOULDER

Milwaukee Boy Gets Into Trouble By Attending an Actress to an After Theater Supper.

New York, March 22.—Actress Minnie Seligman was the cause of a sensational shooting affray early this morning in the Pabst Rathskeller on Forty-Second and Broadway, the "Rialto."

John D. Leffingwell, assistant manager of the Broadway theatre, was shot by R. Hayden Morris after being warned by Leffingwell to cease his flirting with Miss Seligman.

The actress and Leffingwell entered the place at a late hour and while waiting for service Morris came in and took a place near by. Miss Seligman complained to Leffingwell that the former was ogling her and the former went to him with a warning.

Morris drew a pistol and began firing, Leffingwell receiving a slight wound. A panic ensued among the guests.

Morris appeared to be under the influence of drink. He was arrested and said that he was from the South. It is reported that he belongs to a wealthy Tennessee family and that he spends his time in playing the races.

Later in court this morning Morris was identified by a detective as Robert H. Moulton, wanted at Buffalo and Boston for check transactions. Moulton admitted his identity and said his home was in Springfield, Tenn., where rich relatives live.

It also developed that Alexander F. Dingwall, manager of McVicker's theatre in Chicago, who was a member of the Seligman party, was the man shot and not Leffingwell. Dingwall is at the Roosevelt hospital with a bullet in his shoulder. Moulton was held on five thousand dollars bail for a hearing on Monday.

Alexander Dingwall is a Milwaukee boy and was formerly connected with the Cream City newspapers. He was Jacob Litt's right hand man in Milwaukee for several years. He was transferred to McVicker's in Chicago and latterly to Litt's New York office.

Fire at Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 22.—Fire this morning destroyed the Kerr Murray company's machine shop. Thirty-five thousand dollars loss.

FOR COUNTRY TRAINING SCHOOLS

Farmers Want More Schools in Order to Keep Their Youths at Home—Better Teachers' Wages.

Oshkosh, Wis., March 22.—The annual "round up" institute of Wisconsin farmers closed a three days' session here yesterday afternoon. One of the closing acts of the institution was to adopt the following resolutions with regard to the subject of rural education:

"Viewing with regret the tendency of the brightest and most promising of our country youths to drift from the farm on the completion of their studies in the school, normal schools and colleges; be it

"Resolved, That we favor the establishing and maintenance in our rural districts of such schools as enable a farmer's boy or girl to become an intelligent farmer and a useful citizen, believing that the trend of such training would be farmward instead of cityward. To this end we favor State

PHILIPPINES WILL HAVE CIVIL RULE

Military Government Will Cease to Continue About June 30.

JUDGE TAFT GOVERNOR

General Chaffee to Be Under His Orders as Military Commander in Chief.

WILL POLICE THE ISLANDS

Washington, March 22.—The transfer from military to civil government in the Philippines will take place about June 30. This statement was made by high authority here, and evidently is the plan of the administration. Reports during the last week have had it that civil rule would displace military about the middle of May. Doubtless this idea became prevalent because General Chaffee is to reach Manila early in May and take charge in place of General MacArthur, who is to come home. The assertion today that the transfer will not be made until June 30 is too authoritative to doubt.

Power for Judge Taft.
There is now little question that Judge Taft will be made governor of the Philippines and that General Chaffee will be immediately under his orders as the head of the military. The military will then be used to police the islands and to see that the people remain peaceful and in a state of pacification and order. General Chaffee is to make a tour of the islands soon after he reaches Manila. He will visit the many garrisons in Luzon and in the smaller islands and obtain a good idea of what orders he necessarily must issue after civil government is established. It may be decided to reduce the military force in Luzon soon after civil rule is in force. A war department official said today this would depend upon the discretion of General Chaffee. It is believed there will not be the need of so many soldiers there after the military authority, that is now so absolute in the archipelago, has been removed and civil authority is in the saddle. Probably 10,000 or 15,000 troops will be sent home. It is supposed that there will be steps taken permanently to police the islands with military, but no satisfactory information could be obtained on this point today.

Insurgents Burn a Village.

Manila, March 22.—Insurgents have attacked and burned the ungarrisoned village of Uguis in the province of South Ilocos. A detachment of the Twentieth Infantry overtook and chastised the marauders. Colonel Schuyler of the Forty-sixth Volunteer Infantry has captured eight insurgent officers and 218 men at the village of Ternate, in Cavite province. Generals MacArthur, Wheaton and Bates reviewed the Twenty-ninth and Thirty-second regiments today.

CUBANS BID MILES A GREAT FAREWELL

Havana, March 22.—The Cubans gave General Miles an enthusiastic farewell today when he started for Washington. They hailed him as the greatest living American. The constitutional convention has long since decided to grant the demands of the United States under the Platt amendment. There is no opposition and no symptoms of a grand stand play.

SULTAN IS WILD AT ENGLAND'S MOVE

Constantinople, March 22.—The Sultan is furious over the British annexation of seven islands in the Red Sea near Aden and in the bestowal of titles to three chiefs hitherto subject to the porte.

Abdul Hamid is preparing to make an energetic protest against England's latest grab, which was made without warning or negotiations. He doesn't dare to protect his rights to the islands by force but may appeal to Russia for intervention and protection. The islands are probably the Farsal group, giving England absolute control of the Red Sea route to the Orient.

Heavy Fighting in Africa.

Bloemfontein, March 22.—Heavy fighting is reported at Thabanchu between Fouris commando and a strong force of the British. It is not known which has the advantage.

THE NEWS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

EVANSVILLE.

Evansville, March 22.—Perhaps the most exciting time Evansville has ever experienced over the city elections happened Wednesday night. The regular citizens' caucus will take place tomorrow night for the purpose of electing the mayor and city officers. A few days ago the Rev. Miner of the First Baptist church, the employees of the Baker Manufacturing Co., and some other citizens of the town conceived the brilliant idea of holding a caucus of their own at the city hall last evening at eight o'clock. The meeting was called to order a few minutes after eight with the Rev. Miner in the chair, and C. A. Libby acting as secretary. The gentleman appointed as secretary is the sapient editor of the Evansville Enterprise to whom the return of the city election has given the chance to make some of his annual wise remarks. He has again stated in his paper with the wisdom of a defunct oracle that the office of city marshal and street commissioner ought to be combined in one man. The dear editor is doubtless a man of few ideas and does not believe that old age is sufficient cause to prevent any of them working overtime.

After the opening exercises had been gone through with, they proceeded to ballot on the nomination for mayor. The result of the ballot was W. W. Gillies, 24; P. C. Wilder, 4; Louis Gleaves, 1; blank, 1. W. W. Gillies was declared nominated.

It was then in order to nominate a candidate for city treasurer. Mr. John Phifer moved that the rules be suspended and the secretary cast a ballot for Geo. L. Pullen. At this point Mr. Pullen rose and stated that he had promised to accept the nomination on the other ticket, and as he understood the law, a man's name could not appear on two tickets in the same election. The chair called on City Attorney Richmond to explain the law on this matter. The city attorney stated that Mr. Pullen had understood the law correctly, and that a man could not run on two tickets. Mr. Miner replied that if Mr. Pullen was not nominated on the other ticket he could run on this one. (Applause.) Mr. Richmond: "I think Mr. Pullen could run and that would be all." The vote was put and in spite of Mr. Pullen's objection he was declared nominated.

It was next moved and seconded that Homer Potter be nominated for the office of city assessor. Mr. Pullen rose again and stated that Mr. Potter had authorized him to state that as he (Mr. Potter) had promised to accept the nomination on the other ticket he could not accept. Once more the objection carried no force, and Mr. Potter was nominated in spite of himself. In the case of the city clerk the same incident occurred again. Mr. Jonathan Potter was nominated in spite of Mr. Richmond getting up and stating that Mr. Potter had sent word that he had promised to run on the other ticket. After this nomination Mr. Miner made a short speech and stated that they were not there to be bullied by these recalcitrant citizens who would not accept nominations and that he and his friends would not be heartbroken if they did not elect their ticket. He said this was only a beginning to see what they could do and that if they did not win this year they would try again a year from now. For the office of justice of the peace there were no nominations. For chief of police, Ned Griffith was nominated without any opposition.

When the office of street commissioner was before the caucus some one conceived the idea of nominating Fred L. Jones to the office for which his talents would naturally recommend him. On the first ballot Mr. Jones received three votes. This no doubt discouraged him and he withdrew. We trust that after a night's reflection Mr. Jones will not realize that he has missed the opportunity of his life. If he had accepted and become elected, there is no doubt but that the Chicago Sunday papers would have given many columns writing up the public spirited young lawyer from Evansville, who sacrificed himself on the altar of patriotic citizenship, giving up an enormous law practice to serve his native town. The result of the second ballot nominated Wm. Austin for street commissioner.

The remainder of the meeting was given over to a very heated argument between Elder Miner and Mr. John Evans, in which the gentlemen accused each other of trying to run their respective caucuses by means of a ring, composed of a few citizens to the exclusion of the remainder. A committee was appointed to manage the caucus next year.

It is too bad that Carnegie or some other millionaire philanthropist cannot be persuaded to give to the citizens of Evansville enough money to build a town with, or at least build some streets that were not always swamps or rivers in the spring of the year. If the water increases in depth in many of the streets of the town, this will be a good location for some enterprising gondola firm.

CLINTON.

Clinton, March 22.—As election time draws near there are the usual business matters to be discussed in all parties. The matter of license will again be voted on separately at the same time and place.

The Mystic Workers are steadily increasing in numbers, seven being received at the last meeting.

Mrs. J. Rokenbrodt of Allens Grove spent several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. C. E. McCarthy.

Last Friday Mr. Palmer received a message announcing the death of his youngest brother, and on Monday he went to Newark, N. Y., to attend the funeral. Charles Wilkins has charge of the crematory during Mr. Palmer's absence.

For many years there has not been as much sickness in this vicinity as during the past winter; but we trust that the warm spring days will bring returning health to all.

The funeral of the late Theodore Hansen was largely attended. The services were held in the Emerald Grove church under the auspices of the M. W. A. Rev. J. Herbert speaking words of comfort to the bereaved ones.

The many friends of Miss Alice Welch will regret to learn that there is no improvement in her health.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Manager Myers has booked some notable engagements during the month of April. Stuart Robson will appear with his full Chicago cast and scenery. "Arizona" will be produced by the same company that appeared here before and the Burgomaster the latter part of the month.

A fair sized audience saw the Gay Masqueraders at the Myers Grand last evening. They are a bunch of vaudeville people who give a fairly good performance. The chorus is made up of a lot of handsome young ladies, who went through some very pleasing marches. The acrobatic work of Charles and Minnie Savan and Harry Smirl was very fine. Many of the feats performed by these clever people are seldom seen outside of a circus. John Hoover did some good juggling, his work with the cigar boxes and lamp being especially good. The performance opened and closed with short sketches which were well put on.

"Uncle Josh Spruceby," a charming comedy-drama, will be produced for one night at the Myers opera house Tuesday, March 26. Much interest is being taken in the production, as it is said to be very similar to "Way Down East," which had a big run in New York recently. Mr. Levis has secured a very capable company of acting people. A car load of scenery and mechanical effects are carried, and a saw mill at work is one of the very startling effects. Numerous new and novel specialties are introduced, and among other features are a grand operatic orchestra.

On Monday evening there will be at the Myers opera house one of the best extravaganzas, burlesque companies of the day. Monte Jacobs and his company of thirty stars will be the attraction and will give an entertainment of exceptional quality. The company is made up of a bevy of pretty women and ten of the best comedians on the road.

The People's Players, headed by John E. Kelly and Arthur J. Woods, and supported by a strong company, including a fine uniformed band and classic orchestra, in a new repertoire of plays for which special scenery and electric effects are carried, will appear at the Myers Grand opera house two nights only, Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23.

"Faust" will be the bill presented by the People's Players at a matinee to be given tomorrow afternoon at the Myers Grand. The admission will be only ten cents to any part of the house.

Manager Myers of the Myers Grand expects to arrive home from Hudson, Wis., Tuesday of next week. Mr. Myers has been in a sanitarium for several weeks under the care of a physician.

NEW GOLF GROUNDS

AT MADISON, WIS.

Maple Bluff Club Has Secured a Good Location—A Handsome Club House Will Be Built.

The Maple Bluff golf club of Madison, Wis., have issued a handsome little book giving a prospectus of their organization and showing the location of club house and links. The grounds are beautifully located at Maple Bluff on Lake Mendota, three and a half miles from the capitol, by the lake shore drive, and two miles by boat from the foot of Carroll street. The club was organized last year and numbers among its members some of the most prominent residents of Madison. A handsome club house with all modern improvements, costing $2,500, has been built and will be ready for occupancy May 1st.

The course is a nine hole one and was laid out by Messrs. Dunn and Tweedie, the golf professionals. It is 2,340 yards long and is over a gently rolling country, which makes good golf without the use of artificial hazards. During the last year, $1,300 have been expended, and it will be in first class shape for the opening of the season.

The Maple Bluff club have the right idea about running a golf club and have fixed the initiation fees and dues at a figure that will assure them an annual income in keeping with their expenses. The initiation fee for men is $15, and the annual dues, $15. For ladies it is $7.50 initiation and $7.50 dues. For a man and wife, $20 initiation and $20 dues. They start out with a good membership, which will be largely increased during the coming season.

The members of the Mississippi golf club are pleased to know that Madison is to have a good course, as they hope to have several friendly contests with them during the coming season. With Rockford and Madison both in play reaching distance, the local club should be able to have a number of interesting matches during the summer. The Mississippi grounds will be put in first class shape as soon as the frost is out of the ground, and active practice for the season will begin. They should be able to have a team this season that can hold its own with any of the teams in the west.

An Anniversary Party.

Little Reineette Smith was the hostess at a pretty party given at the suburban home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith, yesterday afternoon. The party was in honor of the second anniversary of the little maid's birthday and the guests included several children of about the same age together with their mothers. A novel feature of the party was the presence of representatives of four generations, Little Miss Reineette being the great grand daughter of Mrs. Alden's daughter, Mrs. M. H. Gibbs. Mrs. Smith, the little one's mother is the only daughter of Mrs. Gibbs.

The afternoon was spent very pleasantly and an elaborate birthday supper was served. Each child present received a cut little souvenir of the occasion.

NINE CHILDREN MURDERED

Awful Crimes of Parents in New England.

MOTHER USES AX AND CLUB.

Mrs. Lizzie Naramore Murders All Her Offspring and Falls at Suicide While Her Husband Is Away—A Father Kills Three with an Ax.

Cold Brook, Springs, Mass., March 22.—Becoming violently insane while her husband was away, Lizzie Naramore, wife of Frank Naramore, murdered her six children with ax and club, and tried to kill herself, at their home on the Babcock farm, about an eighth of a mile from the village. Mrs. Naramore laid the blood-drenched bodies on the beds, two on one bed and the other four on a bed in another room, and then cut her own throat with a razor. When discovered she was in the bed on which the bodies of four children were lying. Although she cut a deep gash in her throat, and suffered the loss of much blood, it is believed she will recover.

Discovered by a Grocer's Employee.

Frank Naramore, the husband and father, left his home at the usual hour this morning to go to his work at a sawmill, and at that time his wife did not attract his attention by acting strangely. It is supposed the crime was committed shortly after noon, the discovery being made by George Thrasher, who visited the Naramore house about 2:45 o'clock for the purpose of delivering groceries ordered by Mrs. Naramore. He was unable to get into the house by the door, and he looked through the window and noticed blood on the floor. He returned to the village and told of what he had seen.

Party Visits the House.

A party was made up and a visit was made to the Naramore house. Entrance was effected and the mutilated bodies of the children were found. Mrs. Naramore was alive, but was weak from the loss of blood. She was taken to the village hotel. During the evening neighbors of the family talked with Mrs. Naramore, and to them she told how she had killed her children. She said she took the lives in four different rooms, and as soon as she killed one child the body was placed in bed. There were three boys and three girls—Ethel, 10 years of age, being the oldest, while the ages of Walter, Charlie, Chester, Bessie and Lena ranged from 8 years to 16 months, Lena being the baby.

Tells How She Killed Ax and Club.

Mrs. Naramore said she first killed Ethel, and then followed with the five others, each time taking the next eldest. Five were killed by being struck on the head with the back of an ax, while little Lena was killed with a club. Mrs. Naramore said she fully expected the gash in her throat would cause her death, and that when her husband returned at night he would find all of the bodies. She appeared rational and displayed signs of sorrow for the deed she had committed, although she was unable to give any reason for killing the children.

Doors All Locked and Barred.

When Naramore reached the house he was prostrated with grief by the loss of his family. Each of the children had evidently received several blows, as their heads were terribly bruised and blood was spattered in all directions about the rooms. Mrs. Naramore had evidently made preparations for the deed, as the doors were all locked and barred with sticks of wood.

Man Murders Three Children.

Clinton, Me., March 22.—Jacob Dearborn Marr, a farmer aged 50 years, murdered his three children—Alice, aged 13; Edwin, 9, and Helen, 7. Marr ate dinner as usual with his wife and children and later came into the house with an ax in his hand. Without saying a word he struck Alice on the head with the back of the ax. She fell and Mrs. Marr fled to the home of Marr's father, half a mile distant. When he and Mrs. Marr returned they found Alice lying on the floor in a pool of blood. Marr was at the sink washing his hands. The aged father asked Marr why he had killed Alice and he replied: "I don't know." The other two children were also dead, one at the foot of the stairs and the other upstairs. Both had been killed by the ax. When the officers arrived Marr was quiet and was crying like a child. He was arrested. It is generally believed that Marr is insane. He is a farmer in comfortable circumstances. Neighbors say Marr was jealous of his wife, although without reason. She is about 45 years of age. Marr had been married about twenty years and never has had any trouble with his family.

Drunken Son Stabs Mother.

Burlington, Wis., March 22.—At Honey Creek, a few miles from this place, Mrs. Jonathan Piper, 70 years old, was stabbed in the back by one of her sons, the blade penetrating the left lung. It is feared she cannot recover. Two sons, Noah and John, became engaged in a drunken fight. The mother tried to separate them and was stabbed.

One Doctor Kills Another.

Ouray, Colo., March 22.—Dr. H. E. Burroughs was killed in a quarrel over medical ethics by Dr. Fred J. Clark, who accused Burroughs of being a quack. Clark was lately attached to Rush Medical college.

R & G CORSETS NEVER STRETCH

The moderately straight R & G No. 397 was and is the corset of comfort with the essence of style. It is straight enough for the prevailing vogue and curved enough to conform to healthful anatomical lines. In 1900 we were unable to fully meet the demand for straight-front goods and unwilling to resort to any makeshift to meet the conditions. At present, however, considerable additions to our factory facilities enable us to keep the trade supplied with real straight-front corsets at retail prices from $1.00 to $2.50, and also our 397, 197, Empire and other popular numbers. There are over seventy styles and sizes of R & G Corsets—a corset to fit every figure. R & G Corsets are the corsets that do not stretch. Every hairbreadth of stretch is taken out of the goods by means of steam-heated iron forms. This gives a permanency to the right shape and form that will stay in it until the last day you wear it. Every R & G Corset is sold with the understanding that it must give satisfaction to the wearer, or the dealer will supply a new one free of cost. If your dealer hasn't it, send us his name and we will see that you are supplied with what you want.

THE DIFFERENCE.

There is a gulf between the men of Milwaukee among labor unions, over the question of nine hours of labor for ten hours' pay, suggests the difference between the men who succeeded in life, and the men who fail. There are two kinds of labor managers. One, the agitator, usually a man who has more brains than energy, and who is never satisfied with his condition, and who is determined that every man he can influence shall partake of the same spirit of unrest. All labor organizations have this class of men connected with them, and they are usually leading spirits.

Not one of them was ever known to be worth a dollar, and the first one is yet to be discovered that has ever furnished advice that was worth a dollar to the men that he influenced. And yet these men are labor leaders, and the unions not only recognize them but put them to the front to champion their cause, and multiply their grievances. They fail to recognize the fact that every agitator is a marked man by capital, and that every laboring malcontent can never rise above the level of a machine in the industrial world.

They don't look far enough into the future to discover that men, like machines must be progressive and up to date if they would be in constant demand. The man who travels in the rut of a union for twenty years loses his identity. He has spent so much time in watching the clock, for fear that capital will get a few minutes the start of him, that he has failed to see the opportunities of life as they rush by, and some other fellow who took a little more interest in the business, and a little less in the clock, has left him in the race, to join the ranks of capital and employers.

The men who win from the ranks of labor are not the men who work by the hour, or demand a working day of given length. They are not the men whose sole investment is muscle and a grievance. The men that win are the men who forget themselves in the interests of their employers, and whose faithfulness and loyalty mark them for advancement and positions of trust. They become leaders of men, but not agitators. Their leadership possesses elements of intelligence and common sense, and they are always safe to follow. The labor unions are all right as a social organization, and when properly handled may be of mutual benefit to its members, but when it starts out on a crusade against employers, it assumes the magnitude of a combine, more threatening and harmful than any trust that was ever organized.

Labor will have arrived at its best estate when it spends less time in agitation, and more time in intelligently planning for the future. There is no organization of labor whose mutual interests from a financial standpoint are so important as the bond that unites it to capital. One is helpless without the other, and labor is in no condition to stand the strain of idleness.

A BARE MAJORITY.

The disgraceful attack made on Mr. Harlow by Mr. Hall and Mr. Stevens, in the assembly Wednesday evening, shows the desperation that controls the action of the leaders in the primary law movement. Mr. Barlow is chairman of the engrossment committee. The primary bill was rushed through by the engrossing clerks, and handed to Mr. Barlow just before the opening of the evening session. He refused to report it until he had examined it, the same as he would any other bill, and because of this fact he was roundly abused by Mr. Hall and criticised by Mr. Stevens.

Mr. Hall attempted to compel the chairman to produce the bill, but his motion was lost.

The supporters of the measure are gaining nothing by bull dozing tactics. If the bill finally passes the assembly, it will be by a bare majority, on the part of a body that was created largely for that purpose and has been in training all winter. That sort of a victory smacks of defeat, and is not an occasion for rejoicing. The assembly will do well to take the public into its confidence before final action is taken on the bill. The haste displayed in rushing the measure is unseemly and disgusting. The men who are doing the work are supposed to be the governor's friends, but they will prove to be the worst enemies he has. The reputation of the party is at stake, and the handful of men at Madison should have some regard for its welfare. If the derly treatment as any other measure. If it has merit, develop it by logical argument, and if lacks merit, let it be defeated in the same way.

THE MINNESOTA LAW.

The Minnesota primary law, that was tested in Hennepin county, is pronounced a failure, by the man who drafted the bill, and secured its passage. It destroys concert of action, and is pronounced dangerous by men who have watched results.

If there is anything about a convention that is not representative, the people have yet to find it out. Religious societies, as well as all others of a business or social nature, use the convention because it is representative. Delegates are selected for the express and only purpose of speaking and acting for societies, and their judgment or motives are never questioned. It is the only kind of representation that is either practical or possible, and these conditions are just as true of political parties, as of any other class of organization. The primary and convention are the foundation and life of a political party. Destroy the foundation and the party goes with it.

The theory of independence is very plausible; like the theory of free silver and free trade, but there is nothing practical about it. There are some principles that are fundamental, and that can never be disturbed, without danger to the structure. The work of political parties is largely voluntary and they need all of the stability that time tested methods can furnish. The republican representatives in Madison, in convention assembled, can hardly afford to attack the foundation on which the party rests.

Republican sentiment in several languages is against the primary bill, but assembly sentiment says, "We don't care a doughnut, we are it, and don't you forget it."

This is a "strenuous" country, indeed, when Scranton, Pa., forbids its street car conductors eating onions, and Chicago compels them to wear white standing collars.

DeWet will probably not be overjoyed when he hears that D. B. Hill favors the Boers. Dave has not been on the winning side for some time.

The March weather we are now experiencing assures us that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and a reasonable amount of comfort.

Carnegie is now taking a vacation, after giving away $10,000,000; there are many cities who will be glad to see him return to his desk.

There are other men who are not ministers, who act as though they did not care whether there was a devil or not.

The all night session may be all right, but the primary bill is poor diet for an empty stomach.

A PILFERING BOY IS TAKEN IN HAND

Went Through the D. K. Jeffris Residence and the Office of Dr. Michaelis—He Needs Attention.

A young lad by the name of Hutton has early developed habits that will land him in states prison when he grows older if something is not done to correct him. He was caught a short time ago going through the drawers in D. K. Jeffris' house on St. Lawrence Place by a relative of Mr. Jeffris who saw him climb upon the porch and go through a window. Last night Dr. Michaelis who has an office on Main street caught him going through his desk.

Monday evening Dr. Michaelis missed a book, a fountain pen, and some stamps from his office and could get no trace of them. He was suspicious of a boy that came around looking for work and set out to keep a watch on him. Last night the lad was around as usual and went to Dr. Loomis' office first. There was no one in the office and Dr. Michaelis heard him searching around the room. The doctor concealed himself and when the boy came to his office he asked for work. Not receiving any answer he thought that the doctor was out and started to search his desk, when the doctor stepped out from his hiding place and nabbed him.

He denied taking any of the things, but weakened when questioned by Chief Hogan. He said that he found the pen. The chief asked Dr. Michaelis how large the book was that was taken. The doctor said, "about as large as the boy." This was too much for Hutton. He spoke up quickly saying, "no it wasn't." The boy returned a part of the articles, and an effort will be made by the authorities to have him taken care of before he develops into a first class crook.

Yellowstone National Park.

Yesterday through the courtesy of Mrs. Fred Capelle, the pupils of the sixth grade of the Lincoln school enjoyed a very pleasant novelty in the line of their school work. The pupils, under their teacher, Miss Helen Welch, have been studying the Yellowstone National Park for some time past.

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock Mrs. Fred Capelle visited the school and gave a very delightful and interesting description of Yellowstone Park as he saw it last summer. Her talk was full of valuable information and anecdotes which served to impress it on the memories of those who heard her. She spoke for about forty-five minutes and then gave the children an opportunity to examine a fine collection of photographic views of the park.

NEW HOSPITAL FOR JANESVILLE

EPILEPTIC ASYLUM MAY BE LOCATED AT OAK LAWN.

Dr. W. Towns, one of the most noted specialists on epilepsy, has been in the city trying to buy or lease from the hospital association—property is tied up.

It is very probable that Janesville is to have a hospital for epileptics located on the Oak Lawn hospital grounds.

Dr. W. Towns, one of the most noted specialists on epilepsy in the world has been in the city during the past week to investigate the feasibility of opening a sanitarium in this city. He visited Oak Lawn hospital grounds, but was unable to see the interior of the building, the tenant being absent from home. Dr. Towns declared the location to be a most favorable one for his purposes and requested the executive committee of the hospital association to make him a proposition as soon as possible. He wishes the committee to give him the lowest figure at which they will sell the property or to state what terms they will give him a five or ten year lease.

Dr. Towns is a man who stands high in the medical profession and he is able to furnish the very best recommendations from prominent men all over the world. He is known personally by Dr. Thorne of this city, and is absolutely a man of his word. He has abundant means to carry out any project which he undertakes and if he establishes a sanitarium in Janesville he will make it a successful one.

If satisfactory arrangements can be made it is Dr. Towns' purpose to use the hospital building as the main sanitarium and to surround it with small cottages so that each patient may have separate accommodations. This is done to guard against fire as the patients are not responsible when under the spell of the disease.

Only two such sanitariums are in existence in the United States and the demand for them is large, especially as most of the sanitariums refuse to admit epileptics. Dr. Towns treats patients all over the world.

The officers of the Oak Lawn Hospital association are John Thoroughgood, president; S. B. Hedges, secretary and F. S. Winslow, treasurer. A meeting of the executive committee will be held in the near future to decide upon the matter. The opinion seems to be in favor of giving Dr. Towns a lease at a figure merely large enough to cover the interest on the money invested. For some time past it has been quite a burden on the officers of the association to pay the annual indebtedness on the property.

It would be impossible for Dr. Towns to get a clear title to the property unless it was by foreclosure of the mortgage which would take too long a time. The stock in the association is scattered and a meeting of enough of the stockholders to transact business could not be secured. This is due to the fact that when the city hospital was running shares of stock were given in exchange for donations of a certain amount. This practically ties the property up and prevents its sale.

A NEW DRUGSTORE OPENING

Koerner Bros. to commence business tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow the new drug firm of Koerner Bros. will open their store at the corner of Jackson and West Milwaukee streets for business. The stock is all new and complete, it being the intention of the new concern to carry an assortment of drugs, sundries, toilet articles, paints and everything pertaining to the drug trade, of the highest quality. Price will also be a consideration; the public can rest assured of receiving as low figures on good qualities as can be obtained anywhere. Prescription trade is especially sought. Both of the young men have had ample experience, and are both registered pharmacists. The store has been conveniently and handsomely appointed especially for their business; the fixtures are of oak, and were especially designed for the Koerner Bros. These young men are not strangers to Janesville people; they have been employed in local drugstores, and John Koerner, senior member of the firm, has until recently conducted a drugstore at Wauwatosa, near Milwaukee. They are both sons of Rev. J. C. Koerner of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The public is invited to inspect the new store tomorrow. Each lady will receive a souvenir.

GRAND PIANO AND VIOLIN RECITAL

"Seeböck," the famous pianist, who since his great success in Europe two years ago, has become world-renowned, will give a grand recital in Janesville on Wednesday, April 10.

Seeböck will be assisted by Master Raphael Groff, the wonderful 12-year-old violinist who has been creating such a furore in the large cities.

In order to insure the coming of these great artists, their manager will canvass the city to see if enough subscription for tickets can be obtained.

Subscribers for tickets have one day in advance of others for reserving their seats.

As this will be a rare treat for the music lovers of Janesville, we hope that a large list of signers will be speedily obtained.

Since his return from Europe see boeck has been playing to crowded houses, creating an enthusiasm, in many places paralleled only by Paderewski.

LIBRARY IDEAS OF FRANK A. HUTCHINS

Secretary of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission—What an Expert Thinker of a Building.

Frank A. Hutchins of Madison, the secretary of the Wisconsin Free Library commission, was in the city last evening and members of the library board met with him in informal conference at the high school building.

The evening was very profitably spent although the members of the board were in a manner disappointed because Mr. Hutchins would not speak as one with authority and give them some definite information as to the construction of the library building. His remarks dealt largely with what a library should be rather than with what a library building should be.

Mr. Hutchins said that the construction of the building depended entirely upon what the people of Janesville desired the library to be. If it is to be merely a receptacle for books the building will be entirely different from the one which is to contain a library that shall be a center for educational influences. The people of today are pioneers in the reaction of libraries especially in cities the size of Janesville.

Suggestions for more costly buildings from $100,000 upwards, can be secured from libraries already erected and the same is true of buildings costing from $3,000 to $5,000. Almost nothing has been done, however, in building the cost of which comes between these two extremes. If Janesville erects a building, well planned and well adapted to the needs of a city of its size it will doubtless be patterned after in many other cities.

Mr. Hutchins made one valuable suggestion which he said the board should bear constantly in mind when considering plans. The building should be so constructed as to avoid expensive administration. It should be so arranged that one person should assume a great deal of responsibility and take care of as much of the work as possible. This should be done carefully because it means an annual saving of expense.

During the conference Supt. Mayne sketched a rough plan of what a building should be according to his ideas. This gave the conference a definite thought as a center for discussion and awakened general interest.

DECIDE TO HOLD A NIGHT SCHOOL

A meeting of a special committee, appointed by the board of education to inquire into the advisability of introducing practical business studies in the graded schools, was held at the High school building yesterday afternoon. After some discussion the committee decided that it would be unwise to change the course of study. The members of the committee expressed themselves as in favor of holding a night school next year, where lessons in business science shall be taught. This will give educational advantages to many who are unable to take the High school course.
